

University of Arizona Medieval, Renaissance, and Reformation Committee

Fifteenth Symposium: “Work-in-Progress: New Research Projects

Friday, November 9, 2012, 2:00 p.m.-5:00 p.m.

Location: Mod. Lang. 205

Program

2:00 p.m.: Albrecht Classen, Chair,
Welcome, Introductions, and Announcements

2:15-2:35 p.m. Roger Dahood (English):
Notes on a Gathering from a Later Thirteenth-Century Anglo-Norman Manuscript

2:35 - 2:55 p.m. Albrecht Classen (German Studies):
Heinrich Kaufringer, a German Chaucer?

2:55- 3:15 p.m. Susan Karant-Nunn (History, Division for Late Medieval and Reformation Studies):
Martin Luther's Body

3:15-3:30 p.m.: Short Break

3:30-3:50 p.m. Steven Minas (English):
“Indefatigable Vertue”: The Education of Virtue in Milton’s Areopagitica and Plato’s Laws

3:50-4:10 p.m. Tom Willard (English):
How Paracelsus Restored the Western Imagination

4:10-4:30 p.m. Linda Darling (History):
“The Question of the Identities of Ottoman ‘Knights’ in the Sixteenth Century”

4:30 p.m. Concluding Remarks

Funded by a Faculty and Student Interaction grant, sponsored by UAMARRC

Everybody is welcome; there is no charge for this symposium.
Undergraduate and graduate students are particularly invited to attend.